100 and 125XX Grain
HYDROSHOCK SELF-CENTERING
CHISEL TIP

AIRFOIL: Patented deep lobes in cutting tip: the deep lobes create an air foil that drafts wind over the blades and disallows windplaning

HYDROFOIL: Once in the animal, the lobes create a hydrofoil forcing body mass outward and thus removing friction down the arrow shaft; this results in the deepest penetration on the market

- Offset and Stealth blade design
- .032" thick blades for strength with no blade windows
- One piece stainless steel body construction
- 100 grain, 1 3/8" cut diameter
125 grain 1 1/2" cut diameter
- Field point accuracy and deadly quiet in flight
- The replaceable blades are sharpened front and rear to create a backcut if the head does not pass through the animal; it will cut its way back out!

"As a Professional Archer, Pro Shop Owner, and addicted bow hunter I can honestly say I found the perfect broadhead. I can tell you with complete honesty after a full year of hunting with Ramcat Broadheads, they are the best I have ever used in my 34 yrs of bow hunting. In the last year, I have killed 8 big game animals and 2 turkeys. I have tested Ramcat Broadheads on Vegas face targets with an X not much bigger then a nickel, and found my field points and broadheads consistently hitting the X. I have shot expandable broadheads for 14 years because of their accuracy, and have always said if I could find a fixed blade broadhead that flew as good as an expandable, I would switch back to fixed blades in a heartbeat. That day has finally come.

My customers that have purchased them have had nothing but positive results, and Ramcat broadheads have quickly become my number one selling broadheads."
